Illuminate LA – Collective Memory Installation Parking Fee Waiver

Illuminate LA is a new Department of Arts and Culture initiative that sheds light on the collective and complex history and memory of LA County by exploring the County's Civic Art Collection and public artworks across the region. With panel discussions, events, and artist engagements, Illuminate LA will uplift promising practices and examples of civic art in Los Angeles and beyond that support greater cultural equity and inclusion, and expand opportunities for diverse artists underrepresented in public art.

Illuminate LA's Collective Memory Installation is an opportunity for artists to challenge the notion of monuments as controlled narratives and erasure of marginalized communities, as well as support artists in sharing their narratives and experiences in community to express the collective history of this site. Images of a wide variety of artwork media will be displayed in a digital installation in Grand Park in early 2023 as part of Illuminate LA's ongoing programming series.

The Department of Arts and Culture received over 400 submissions from a diverse group of artists. Given the enthusiasm towards this opportunity, the selection panel was inspired to hold an in-person gathering with the selected artists, their families,
